PORTFOLIO

THE CLASS OF 1963

PORTFOLIO

The Editors of Portfolio believe that the camera is more than an instrument to record. We hope we have created a yearbook that will remain more than a memento.

We dedicate this yearbook to Alfred E. Hammer, Dean of Students, a man who has directed us in a way of seeing and who has continued to guide us as an administrator.

MICKEY SAND

Many of you during your years at the Rhode Island School of Design have known hours, perhaps days, when an idea gripped you and, almost as though it were possessed, your hand responded surely. Artists cherish such moments not only because they are rare, but because they are furtive and fragile and are quickly banished by introspection. Looking back, when we are spent, we may wonder how the idea arrived, but we cannot doubt that it crested much prior discipline, much prior information, much prior drudgery, this wave we call "inspiration."
